Something Different

Millikin University

1184 West Main Street
Decatur, Illinois 62522

A Different Year...A New Start

It is the start of another academic year. As summer starts to wind down, students return to Millikin for another exciting year. We see old faces in the crowds of students coming back to school. We also see new faces on campus for the first time.

Friends are together again after the three month summer vacation. They trade stories about the summer, and keep a watchful eye on the new students--those unfamiliar faces.

New students walk around bewildered in their new environment. For the freshmen, Millikin is a world of difference from being in high school and living at home. These new students will meet new friends, and some will make a difference at Millikin in the next four years.

By the end of the academic year, we will all be different people. Seniors will graduate, and freshmen willhave survived their first year of college. This yearbook will capture the different aspects of Millikin so we can all look back at 1994-95 with fond memories.

Above and left: A familiar sight for all of us come fall.. Students moving into the residence halls.

It is never fun moving in. Unfortunately, it is something all of us have to do in the sweltering heat in August every year for four years.

Fortunately, there is always the members of the RHA Moving Crew who volunteer their time to help students move into the residence halls every August. What would we do without these people?

President McCray greeting new freshmen and transfer students to the annual President's Cookout. The cookout is held at the President's home to welcome new students to Millikin.

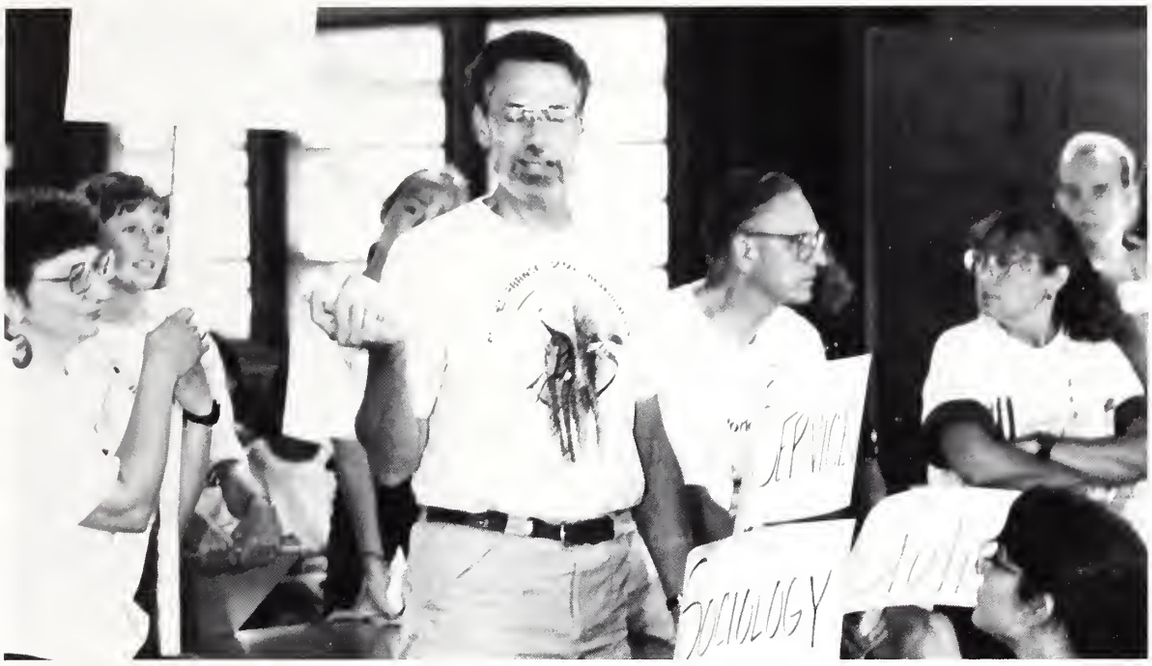
All Aboard for Millicamp 1994

Millicamp is a two day orientation for new students at nearby Allerton Park. This year, new freshmen and transfer students were "All Aboard" with Millicamp counselors to get the school year started of on the right foot. On Saturday, new students and counselors boarded about ten yellow school buses and headed out to Allerton Park to begin the Millicamp experience.

The objective of Millicamp is to introduce new students to Millikin in a fun and informal setting. Besides getting to know one another, students had the chance to talk in groups about their first day experiences and ask questions about Millikin. Faculty were also at Millicamp to answer questions about classes and academics at Millikin. Free time was plentiful at the camp, so campers spent the time making new friends, playing games and relaxing.

On Saturday night, there was the cabin exchange, the dance, and the ever popular hypnotist. To end the night, there was a bonfire where campers could cook hot dogs and marshmallows. Campers kept themselves entertained with a sing-a-long. Others opted to sit around and talk to their new found friends.

Sunday was another fun-filled day at Millicamp. After breakfast, there was church service. The schedule for the day included games and bus competitions. As usual, the counselors started a water fight to cool themselves from the heat. Everyone had a great time a this year's Millicamp.



Left: Professors get in on the act. Dr. Verry, Dr. Lovell-Troy, Dr. Bodamer, and Dr. Rivers all lending a helping hand in educating the new students about academics at Millikin.

Right: Freshmen Eric Willis and Chin Yee Yap participating in some Millicamp activities and making some new friends along the way. Don't they look like they are having fun?

Fall Convocation

Fall Convocation is held every year, marking the beginning of another academic session here at Millikin University. The Convocation began with the academic procession led by faculty marshals James McDonald and Carol Paul-Merritt. This year's speaker was Professor Chinua Achebe. Professor Achebe was introduced by Provost Thomas Flynn after the invocation. The title of Professor Achebe's address was "The NIgerian Context of My Fiction." After his address, Professor Achebe was presented with the Presidential Award for Humanitarian Leadership by Dr. McCray.

About the speaker...

Professor Achebe was born in Eastern Nigeria and raised in the large village of Ogidi. He graduated from the University of Ibadan in 1953. Since 1967, he has taught at several universities and currently is Charles P. Stevenson Profesor of Literature at Bard College, New York. Bard President Leon Botstein calls Professor Achebe "one of the great intellectual and ethical figures of our time...(he) combines multiculturalism with wisdom."

Professor Achebe has received the Nigerian National Merit Award, Nigeria's highest award for intellectual achievement. His classic novel "Things Fall Apart," has sold more than eight million copies and been translated into more than 50 languages since it was first published in 1958. His book of poetry, "Beware Soul Brother and Other Poems," won the Commonwealth Poetry Prize in 1972. He has published novels, short stories, essays and children's books. In addition, Professor Achebe has received 20 honorary doctorates from universities in the U.S., Britain and Nigeria. Not surprisingly, The Times of London named Professor Achebe as one of 1,000 "Makers of the 20th Century."

Fall Family Weekend

After being away from home for close to two months, Fall Family Weekend arrives. The weekend is a chance for families to visit with each other, and for students to show their families around campus. On Friday, students have the opportunity to bring their family members along to class to let family members experience what it is like to be in a Millikin class.

The campus is filled with little brothers and sisters running around, trying to figure out what college is all about. Their smiles of joy when they see their brother or sister is a sight anyone can enjoy.

The weekend was filled with various kinds of activities for the family. Events included Brother/Sister Programs, Fall Family Banquet, All Family Dance, the football game, a theatre production, performances by the Singing Blue and Blue Review and much more.

On Sunday, it was time to say good-bye. Many families brought home with them fond memories of the weekend that will last a lifetime.

Homecoming...

Homecoming week began Sunday with traditional games at Fairview Park. The Homecoming Talent Show was held on Tuesday while a pep rally and bonfire were held Thursday.

On Friday night, the Homecoming king and queen were crowned after the coronation concert at Kirkland Fine Arts Center. Five alumni award winners were also honored.

The Homecoming parade on Saturday morning began at the Decatur Civic Center and the route brought participants back to campus.

Bill and Nancy Eichenauer were grand marshals for the parade in honor of their service to Milikin University and the Decatur community. President Curtis L. McCray, and Mrs. McCray served as parade marshals.

The Homecoming dance was held on Saturday night at the Decatur Civic Center. On Sunday morning the Choral Homecoming was held at Westminster Church.

This year's co-chairs for Homecoming were Jodi Ball of Decatur and Guy Merker-Oroni of West Chicago.

The hall is being built next to Hessler Hall where the tennis courts used to be located. The new hall is expected to house 200 students in single, double and quad rooms. There are also plans to include a bookstore and grocery store or a place to eat in the hall for the convinience of students.

The new hall is the beginning of many changes to come for Millikin's campus in the next five to six years.

What a tangled web we weave when we practice to deceive. The web in Fledermaus grows quickly. Faulk plays a joke, the wrong man ends up in jail, and everyone is playing someone else. Where does the confusion end? Luckily, Faulk fesses up and everyone's true identity is revealed and laughs and champagne are shared.

FAST

Talking and Variety Programming

WJMU is the campus radio station that transmits within the county-wide range.

The station promotes several different kinds of radio shows all designed by Millikin students and faculty. Programming varies from sports events and adult contemporary music to the wild late night antics from Marcus Schoen and Chris Grant the folks from IHOF.

Students are required to take a radio communications course in order to be able to work on the airwaves. WJMU is always looking for volunteers and encourages people to get involved.

Certain aspects of radio expect reporters to travel with Millikin sports teams. Aymie Olson, a sportscaster at WJMU, travelled to Minnesota to announce the women's basketball game home to Millikin when the Big Blue made it to the final sixteen in NCAA competition.

WJMU is governed by FCC regulations and hopes that you continue to tune into 89.5 FM WJMU.

SISTERS

are Uniting Campus Sororities

The National Panhallenic Conference is the crucible of all female sororities. Millikin's Panhellenic Council is a combination of women who are active in a sorority. The president of Panhel and its respresentative council are chosen by each house which is advised by Rich Dunsworth, the coordinator of greek life. Membership requires that all chapter members be in good standing with the National Conference.

The group's purpose on campus is to promote the academic and personal growth of all students involved in greek life. Panhel sponsors events for the sororities to attend to teach them about leadership and how academic achievement and cultural awareness can improve not only themselves but their house.

"I think being a part of Panhel is a great opportunity for me to do something for my sorority. It's a great honor to be part of the group, especially since I'm a freshman," said Holly Wilson. Panhel holds Oustanding Panhellenic Participation Award events for houses to attend on campus. Panhel also establishes the rules and events for rush.

CAREER

Business Majors seek Experience

The only national fraternity for business majors on campus is Alpha Kappa Psi. To become initiated students must be enrolled in the Tabor School of Business, have a 2.5 grade point average and must have earned at least twelve hours of college credit.

Member Stacy Oertwig said the group's goal is to accomplish "personal professional enhancement" for business majors looking to improve their management skills.

Executive members are voted on by the organization which currently has three members holding the vice presidential office.

Alpha Kappa Psi has speakers from various industries around Decatur give lectures to members. AKP also holds professional meetings that coincide with class work through the business school.

In May, the fraternity celebrated its 30th anniversary of the Zeta Sigma chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi. A dinner and dance was held for the alumni and current members.

Fraternity Widens Music Appreciation

Sigma Alpha Iota is the music fraternity for women on campus for students who strive academically and are deeply devoted to the art of music. Members must maintain a 2.7 grade point average as well as having active participation within the group. Sigma Alpha Iota welcomes anyone who has been involved in music at the university to join.

Sigma Alpha Iota holds their meetings weekly and their executive board is elected by members within the organization.

The main activities of the group include a recital once a semester and sometimes holds musical concerts with Phi Mu Alpha the male music fraternity at Millikin.

Students do not have to be music majors to join. Instead they must have been involved in music at one point including musical theatre, choir, and band activity.

Sigma Alpha Iota also holds the usual fundraisers on campus to help promote their concerts and other music activities throughout the campus. The women of SAI wish to have their latin phrase known, "Vita Brevis, Ars Longa."

GREAT

Leadership Awards Sorority Members

Women in sororities are initiated yearly into Rho Lambda, a national honorary society for outstanding women who have been devoted and active in their sorority.

To be considered by Rho Lambda for membership a student must be a junior or a senior in the panhellenic council with a 2.3 accumulative grade point average.

Women who are involved with Rho Lambda have played significant roles in the lives of thir sisters. Women who are candidates for this organization are nominated by their sorority chapter presidents or advisors.

AIDING

People in Need as a Career

The National Student Nurse's Association aids nursing students in learning about professional interests, programs and concerns about becoming a nurse. The group gains experience through activities. The NSNA wants to influence the effectiveness of health care by future nurses and works in the community to help people who need it.

The organization also encourages its members to develop relationships with other health groups. The members represent Millikin's nursing students to the community.

Their activities include doing community service. NSNA works with Dove children as well as sponsoring campus wide fundraisers. Last fall, the organization held CPR certification on campus. They also sold first aid kits to students.

Several times a year, different health officials come to speak to NSNA members about the different areas of nursing they can go into after graduation.

The organization also attends National conferences to discuss their group's activities with other NSNA organizations from around the country.

MUSIC

Transforming Students to Teachers

The Music Educators National Conference benefits all music education majors. Regular meetings are held to help the student improve and prepare for a future in teaching. Guest speakers often attend meetings to answer any questions members have about music education.

Membership is open to all music majors and any Millikin student who is interested in becoming obtaining a music educatin degree. The advisor of the group is Dr. Mark Nelson, chair of the music education department.

The group travelled to Peoria to attend the All-State music convention. "This last fall, Millikin hosted the Illinois College Music Educator's Association's Fall Conference, and also had four members elected to the 1995 Executive Board for the state," said Andrea Pelloquin.

Pelloquin said tht the only qualifications for being a member is to have an interest in teaching music of some time in the future. "We've had a few performance majors in the past, and some business and commercial art majors, but we primarily have education majors."

CLINICAL

Learning Leadership

Alpha Tau Delta is the national nursing fraternity open to all nursing majors that are sophomores and are in good standing with the University. Members dedicate their time not only to becoming a better nurse, but to commit to philantropic projects with DOVE or Red Cross, said senior Katrina Winch.

The group takes part in many different activities including fundraisers, national conventions and working with the community. Member Carey Barnes said she would be travelling to Pittsburgh over the summer to the National Convention.

If we do not send at least one delegate, we get fined and lose any funds given from the national office, which includes any scholarships any of our members may be eligible to receive," said Winch.

New members become pledges in the fall and spend the semester learning more about ATD and are then inducted in the spring. "I believe that ATD allows one to gain and share knowledge about their clinical/work experiences within the nursing profession," added Winch.

REXNS

Created by Chemistry Students

Membership in the American Chemical Society is open to anyone majoring in chemistry or related fields. The ACS provides an opportunity for chemistry students to maintain a professional pride in the chemical sciences. ACS holds monthly meetings featuring student speakers and representatives from local industries and graduate schools. They also have opportunities for informal socializing through their parties and end-of-year picnic.

This year, the organization participated in chemistry magic shows in Decatur and Springfield during National Chemistry Week. Several members also judged grade school science fairs.

So the American Chemical Society truly shows its usefulness through the activitites in which it is involved both on and off Millikin's campus.

ACTIONS

to Grow in Scientific Knowledge

Sigma Zeta of the Pi Chapter holds two main purposes: to encourage and foster attainment of knowledge in the sciences and to recognize the attainment of high scholarship among those who qualify for membership in the society.

In order to belong to this organization, students must major in the natural sciences or mathematics and obtain a grade point average of 3.2 in the natural sciences and 3.0 overall.

Sigma Zeta assists students' scientific knowledge by sending them to the annual National Convention so they may present research papers, and the organization also plans local science fairs, recycling drives, field trips, and science lectures.

One of the fundraisers which Sigma Zeta sponsored this year was candy bar sales. This not only helped the group out by earning money for their needs, but it also helped many students who were desperate for chocolate during their long hours of study.

Sigma Zeta is truly a helpful organization that does a terrific job in promoting the sciences on Millikin University's campus.

MEMORY

Captures Special Moments

The Millidek, Millikin's yearbook, captures the memories of each prosperous year. The job of putting together such a publication is a long and difficult one that requires hard work and dedication from each staff member. The yearbook exists to please the student body and, hopefully, to spark some memories.

When the students glance at their yearbooks after graduating, millions of emotions fill their hearts. They see their friends making goofy faces, they see their teachers intelligently instructing students, they see their classmates participating in a variety of activities, and they see themselves as crazy, young, college kids.

What the graduates view, however, is not nearly as important as what they feel--they feel a year of happiness, a year of sadness, a year of fun, a year of stress...a year that made terrific memories.

Luckily, the Millidek staff makes these memories possible through their tedious hours of hard work and commitment. Without this group, many individual faces that appear on Millikin's campus would eventually be lost in the woodwork and forgotten. The yearbook staff does not allow this to happen.

THINK:

To Drink or Not to Drink

The local chapter of BACCHUS (Boost Alcohol Consciousness Concerning the Health of University Students) International focuses on the development and promotion of positive lifestyles and decision-making skills. These goals are reached through both education and activities designed to increase awareness of alcohol issues.

The group provides social activities, as well as information for individuals to develop life skills in leadership, organization, responsibility, and networking.

An organization like BACCHUS is extremely important on a university campus because of the high percentage of alcohol present at college. Not only does BACCHUS inform individuals about alcohol, but it also encourages students to think for themselves in a society that pressures conformity. BACCHUS can truly help everyone greatly.

TALK

Talk, Talk, Talk

The Millikin Communication Organization was formed to provide Communication majors and minors with information about communications as an academic discipline and a professional pursuit. MCO is also a great opportunity for everyone interested in public relations, radio, and television.

MCO encourages members to join several campus activities in order to enrich their communications skills. Some of these activities include: the Decaturian, Millikin's newspaper; the Millidek, Millikin's yearbook; Collage, a collection of student writing, photography, and art; and WJMU, the campus radio station.

The Millikin Communication Organization, therefore, provides both guidance and information to those students planning to further their education in the communications field.

DEBATE

World Issues of Today

The Theo-Socratic Society provides several programs and activities which are designed to promote and to strengthen interests in the academic study of religion and philosophy. Students and staff meet to discuss, debate, and explore major problems and topics in these areas.

This group talks about contemporary issues at hand in our world today. They contemplate such questions as, "Should we force our values on the homeless?" and "Should we help other countries before we help our own?" They also discuss popular topics, such as the issues of abortion, drugs, alcohol, and violence. All of these talks help out the students, as well as the society.

The Theo-Socratic Society, therefore, truly gets students involved in our world. By making the individuals think, opinions and ideas that are important to the future of this country are examined more closely, as they should be. In addition, students are able to feel like their thoughts really do matter and that they can do something to make this world a better place to live.

Overall, this group is helping to shape the world of tomorrow.

MANAGE

the Future's Business

The Institute of Management Accountants is a student professional business organization focused upon professional and academic development. This group is open to all students, and it offers a variety of programming to its members, including professional, social, and service programs.

The educational meetings consist of monthly business meetings on various business topics. Education also appears in company tours. Some of the more recent tours have been to Anheuser Busch in St. Louis, Missouri, and to First National Bank in Chicago.

Some of the social events have included Cardinal baseball games, bowling, pizza parties, cook-outs, and miniature golf.

Also, several service projects have been helping out the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program and United Way.

So the Institute of Management Accountants strives to assist students, not only by providing information at meetings, but also by sponsoring fun and interesting events which everyone can enjoy.

TEACH

the Children Well

The Student Education Association, or SEA, is a student-run organization whose goal is to provide for students interested in becoming educators, whether it be elementary, secondary, or physical education.

This year, they have offered a variety of activities, such as a tutoring program, along with guest speakers on subjects such as special education, gangs in schools, child abuse, and multicultural education. This group also features panels about once a semester involving area principals and teachers.

The primary aim of the Student Education Association is to better prepare education majors in their fields of study and to provide support to those facing the challenge of teaching our younger generation today. Thus far, they seem to be succeeding in reaching this difficult goal.

SHOWS

Bring Entertainment to Campus

They sponsor ice skating, bowling, movie nights, trips to New York City, Casino Night, scheduled field trips to basketball games, Lock Stock and Barrel nights, comedians and guest speakers. The University Center Board continually brought entertainment to Millikin for students. All of the events were planned by UCB members. UCB contacted businesses and asked them for discounted rates to sponsor a Millikin night at different places in the area.

Students must apply to become a member of UCB and are chosen by their involvement in other activities and leadership skills. UCB is funded by an activities fee that is installed into a student's tuition. The organization runs successfully not because of their plentitude of funds but because of Millikin's involvement with the activities.

"Millikin is a great campus because it is a smaller school and people become more involved. It's easier to get the word around campus when things are going on. Of course, when you're giving away money and trips to New York people want to come to events," said Emily Oshita, UCB's Recreation chair.

MAJORS

are Welcome to Learn Big Business

The Millikin Marketing Association is a group on campus which deals with big business, but any student who is interested in learning about developing professional marketing skills and is a full time student majoring in business is invited to attend meetings. Through mock business situations, M.M.A. helps its members to design resumes and practice their interviewing skills with other business students. The club also takes trips to tour corporations like Pepsi Cola and Caterpillar. Guest speakers from Miles Chevrolet and the Red Cross have held talks with the group about business and their future plans and goals.

"M.M.A. offers the chance to apply basic marketing and business applications to real life situations, which result in academic, personal, and professional development," said M.M.A. president Kristen Levey.

Around campus the group sells all of the concessions at sport events. From the profit of these sales, M.M.A. donates half of the money to charities. They also sponsor social events like paint blast tag game for students. These events allow the group to travel around the midwest and to actually use their marketing skills in turning a profit and to improve their relations with consumers.

UNITY

Helps Develop Faith

Brothers and Sisters in Christ is a group of students who wish to mature in their involvement with the Christian religion. The members and main aspects of the organization are affiliated with several different Baptist denominations but any student of any religion may join.

The object of BASIC is to grow to have an understanding about all aspects of life and how faith in Christ exists in their lives.

Like other religious groups on campus BASIC holds gatherings for people to share in worshipping Christ and learning about religion and trust through other members. BASIC sees each member's views as an insight into their own devotion to their religion and life.

The group serves as an adult education class for the church and discusses a wide variety of topics that are not soley related to the church. They are a devoted to the development for the individual as well as the group.

POWER

in the Senate Aids Students

Each member of the Student Senate is voted on by students on campus. Therefore, they represent the students when meeting with the administration of the university. The Senate discusses such things as security problems, academic issues, the progress of the university and the overall concerns of the student body.

Student Senate is also reponsible for other groups around campus. They distribute funding to other organizations to maintain activities and to allow other interest groups to inspire change and development at Millikin. Each senator is chosen by University committees through a special application process. A senator understands government procedures and can insure that student views on changes are brought to the attention of the board.

To hold an office in the Senate a student must be in good academic standing with the university. Offices of presidency and vice-presidency within the Senate are voted on by the student body and the other offices such as secretary, treasurer and Senate relations director are chosen by the Senate depending on the applicant's petition.

KIDS!

Circle K Assists Many Individuals

As the largest collegiate service organization in North America, Circle K helps a variety of people in need. This year's main focus for the group is kids. To help children, Circle K has assisted with several youth-associated projects, the largest being the Dove Youth Program. This program basically entails offering activities to youngsters in shelters and has proven to be a success.

Along with children, Circle K has also offered assistance to others. Throughout the year, they have been involved in various activities, including Project Read to help disabled adults, Christmas carolling to spread the holiday spirit, T-shirt sales to benefit environmental agencies, and penny wars to aid spastic paralysis.

Stephanie Edmiston, the group's1994-95 president, basically sums up their intent: "Circle K is an international service organization that gives the college students great opportunities for leadership, service, and fun. This group is committed to making Decatur and the campus a better place to live."

HELP!

Students Turn to Their Faith

The Newman Catholic Community works to help Millikin University Catholic students appropriate an adult faith.

The priorities of this community include: maintaining a commitment to worship on campus by sponsoring Mass and other services; developing a sense of community among the Catholic student body, faculty, and staff by welcoming and offering hospitality; and performing Christian service through volunteering an outreach on campus, in area churches, and in the city community.

Catholic services are held every Sunday night at 6 p.m. The Newman Catholic Community also sponsors special masses on holy days of obligation. Around thirty or more students attend mass each week and on holy days.

Students find having mass on campus a convenience to their busy academic schedules. Many parents also find it a relief that their children can attend mass at school, so they can remain in touch with their faith and their church.

The Newman Catholic Community provides a religious service to the campus that is vital to many students.

CREATE

New Images through Art

With all of the artistic individuals attending Millikin University, the school offers membership in an organization which appeals to their unique abilities. That organization is the Art Club.

This year, the name of this organization changed from the Computer Imaging Association to the Art Club in order to involve more individuals in broader areas of art.

These individuals participated in several unique activities this year. For Homecoming, the students entered a chalk-drawing contest entitled Hollywood Squares, in which Laura Dopheide won first place. Another exciting event was the Winter Show, which displayed many chosen art works in the Kirkland Fine Arts Center. This additional activity for the Art Club allowed for even greater student participation and creativity.

Diana Groth, president of the Art Club , states the main goals and purposes of this particular collegiate organization: "We try to plan fun, practical, and useful experiences for the Art Department while unifying everyone through activities such as picnics, face painting, chalk-drawing contests, and art shows."

RELATE

with Students and Alumni

The Millikin Alumni and Student Host (MASH) program is run by enthusiastic, dedicated individuals who selflessly give themselves to improve student-alumni relations. Students participating are selected by the Alumni and Parent Relations Office.

Their main job is to assist the Alumni Board with its various activities surrounding the homecoming, alumni weekend and SummerView, along with Fall Family Weekend.

This group, however, does not really consider this work. By keeping different generations relating, this organization helps to keep the school strong with its ties to the outside world. The program offers benefits for both the alumni and the students. It gives graduates a chance to keep in touch with their alma mater, and at the same time, it gives students a chance to interact with individuals who are already out in the "real world."

The MASH program, therefore, definitely benefits Millikin University and the community.

MEDICAL

Assistance is also Available

The Sports Medicine Club promotes awareness and increases communication between athletes, athletic trainers, and other health professionals. This communications link is extremely important to establish in order for athletes to succeed, and membership is open to all students, faculty, and staff interested.

They strive to attain this relationship through various speakers, activities, and programs. These events also aid in opening the communication lines, not to mention the frequent generation barrier.

THERAPY

Is Available

The Physical Therapy / Occupational Therapy Association exists for students who are enrolled in pre-professional programs designed to provide information about allied health fields, to encourage higher academic goals, and to enhance educational goals through speakers, activities, and programs.

The members of this organization have participated in various activities since it was established. They have visited PT departments and have even formed a volunteer program at Decatur Memorial Hospital in the Physical Therapy Department. Through these activities, they strive to serve the community as much as possible, and the community definitely appreciates their assistance.

The Physical Therapy / Occupational Therapy Associattion, therefore, not only helps students by providing them with both information and hands-on experience, but also, it helps the people of Decatur. The relationships within the organization and the relationships with the individuals in the community truly assists the students with their present and future goals.

Days Are Here Again

The Fall Family Weekend Committee was formed to plan an enjoyable weekend for the students and their parents and siblings.

This year, the theme of Fall Family Weekend was "Happy Days Are Here Again." The group arranged several fun activities for the families. A few of these events included: a concert by the University Concert Band; a family-style dinner; a "Family Secrets" game show, which featured a take-off of "The Newlywed Game"; a "Create Your Own Sundae Party" for little brothers and sisters; several showings of the musical Candide; a University Center Board movie, Snow White; brother/sister programs, featuring cartoons, face painting, computer games, and crafts; a Millikin University football game; and a "Rock Around the Clock" family dance.

The 1994 Fall Family Weekend was quite successful. The students and their families alike enjoyed the variety of activites available. Chairperson Christie Hill commented, "After all the work that the committee does, it is so rewarding to see the students and their families having fun throughout the weekend."

PEOPLE

Who Need People

The Society for Human Resource Management supplements the learning of human resource principles. This group focuses upon, but is not limited to, human resource management majors.

This year, some of SHRM's activities have included tours of local companies, guest speakers, and social events. Through these events, members gain both professional and personal development from the group.

In addition, membership in SHRM gives individuals yet another chance to work with people. They are continuing to build their skills every day, in preparation for their future careers.

So through its activities and interaction, the Society for Human Resource Management is helping students both academically and socially.

SING

Sing a Song

Phi Mu Alpha is a national organization, consisting of male students who have either selected music as their profession or who want to help advance music programs in the community. Members must have a 2.0 average to be initiated.

This group's overall aims include: furthering the cause of music in America, creating a fraternal spirit among members, aiding music students in their field, and giving loyalty to Millikin University.

In order to achieve these goals, Phi Mu Alpha spends hours devoted to their music. They truly work well together and give an annual concert for all people to enjoy. Their music is strongly appreciated by these audiences.

Phi Mu alpha, therefore, is a group which is completely dedicated to what it loves--its music.

GREEKS

Join Together

The Millikin University Interfraternity Council (IFC) consists of the presidents and two elected representatives from each of the five fraternities on campus. Seven executive officers and four committee chairmen plan this group's programs and activities. Also, the director of Greek life is the group's adviser.

IFC's aims include: fostering a sense of community among the campus fraternities, promoting the fraternity system and acting as an intermediary between the system and other segments of the campus community, executing matters concerning joint fraternity relations, and offering information about many aspects of fraternity life.

Throughout the year, IFC takes part in philanthropies and several different community service projects. In this way, they can also keep in touch with the townspeople of Decatur by reaching out and helping them with their needs and desires.

The Interfraternity Council, therefore, relates to both Millikin University's campus and the city community with their complete devotion and assistance.

SENIORS

Plan Events for Classmates

The Senior Class Committee is a group which basically plans activities in which the seniors may participate.

This year, events were quite numerous to raise money for the class. They sold candy on campus, along with holding a phonathon to increase funds for the seniors. Also, they offered t-shirts for the seniors to purchase as a college momento.

In addition to making money for the seniors, this committee sponsored several unique activities especially for the class. They held a "President Switch-a-Day," where the winner of a raffle, Betsy Zacate, got to spend a day in the life of Millikin's president. In return, Millikin's president spent the day following Betsy's schedule. Along with this event, a Senior Night, with different themes and door prizes, also took place. This activity occurred at Lock, Stock and Barrel every Tuesday night. Also, at the end of May, this group planned a senior picnic.

The Senior Class Committee, therefore, did an excellent job arranging unique events for the seniors. This group is deeply appreciated by all.

UNITY

through International Relations

As a group the International Student Association works to provide the Decatur Community a sense of knowledge about foreign countries. Students from Millikin team up with other foreign students in the area and sponsor group lectures and talks about their nationalities and what it means to be in America, or how it feels to be thousands of miles away from home.

As a visitor in our country many of the members have to face some culture shocks, whether it be in the way families are run, the way America educates their youth or living conditions. The talks and experiences these students experiences benefit not only the speakers, but the audience as well.

The organization meets with students from Richland Community College and is more of an organization that represents the diversity of Millikin's campus to the local commuity, said Angie Topa, secretary.

Students at Millikin come from all over the world, they are of different races, religions and cultures. The International Student Association allows Millikin to make bridges that connect between those different cultures and unite the campus.

HOUSING WITH A DIFFERENCE

After her first few weeks of school, freshman Kate Higgs went home to stock up on decorating essentials to create a more homelike atmosphere in her dorm room. Higgs lived on the upper fourth floor of Hessler, (meaning she traveled down the stairs as little as possible), so making her dorm room livelier was essential.

There are some people who cannot get enough of their roommate. Juniors Jen Wilson and Angela O'Neal celebrate the first few cold days of fall by bundling up in matching flannel nightgowns on Blackburn three.

While visiting his friends in the the guest room, freshman Kevin Willis awaits the return of its temporary residents. Because of structural problems and their effect on the pipes in Hessler, sixteen residents were temporarily placed (for a month) in other housing on campus until it was safe to return to their rooms.

The beginning of spring lead to all sorts of activities. Students came out of their dorm room caves to go bike riding, rollerblading, or sunbathing. To prepare for the "short" season, Freshmen Suzanne Wells, Amanda Ratz and Katie Florie used the Blackburn bathtubs to shave their legs and to soak their dry faces in revitalizing mud treatments.

SPORTS

WITH A DIFFERENCE

A Step Away From Greatness

With 16 starters back from the 1993 squad that finished with a 6-3 record and third place finish in the C.C.I.W., Coach Carl Poelker felt this year's team could build on last year's success. The 1994 squad began the season just as expected, with a 25-0 thrashing of Franklin College. The team then suffered a hard 9-6 loss to Division I-AA Valparaiso University. The team then went on to win five of its last seven games to end the season with a 6-3 record. With C.C.I.W. title hopes on the line, the Big Blue ended the season with a hard-hitting loss to rival Illinois Wesleyan by the final of 28-17. The final C.C.I.W. record of 5-2, left the Big Blue in a tie for third place in the conference. Individual successes this year were achieved by Todd Harris most sacks in a season (11), and Brad Kirby who moved up to sixth on the all-time Big Blue rushing list with a total of 1,874 career yards. With the return of 51 letter winners, the Big Blue should definitely continue its success again next year and challenge for the conference title.

Excel To Be Champions

After years of standing on the doorstep of greatness, the Big Blue volleyball squad finally knocked down that door. With a sparkling 27-10 overall record, this year's squad became one of the best in school history. The team also solidified itself as being a force to be reckoned with in the C.C.I.W. by bolting to a 6-1 conference mark. This year's league crown was the first in school history.

Lead by C.C.I.W. Player of the Year, Amber Crowder, and a plethora of excellent hitters and defensive specialists, Coach Linda Slagell hopes to continue next year with another league crown. By losing only three seniors to graduation and gaining many players from the excellent Junior Varsity squad, the Big Blue volleyball squad should only improve next year, and vie for an invitation to the NCAA Divisiov III Voleyball Tournament.

This year's team finished with a record of 1-17. the team was lead by Alejandro Lagunas with 8 goals. The team played competitively in many of its matches. Kurt Taute finished out his stellar collegiate career with many career marks: most career goasl (41), most career shots (271), most career points (90), most points in a season (35), most goals in a season (15), most shots in a season (90), and most shots in a game (16). With many returning starters and many players gaining a lot of experience, the Big Blue should easily improve their record and be in the hunt for the conference title.

A Step Above the Rest

With both the men's and women's cross country teams fielding small numbers, Coach Chad Sloan had hopes of his teams gaining valuable experience throughout the season. With many returning letter winners back from last year's very successful squads, the teams were hoping to exceed last season's success. Led by MVP Leslie Nottingham, the women's team finished sixth at the CCIW meet, while the men's team finished fifth at the meet. The men's team was led by MVP Kevin Cannell. With 14 returning letter winners and the hopes of gaining new runners, the team should easily contend for the conference crown and place well at the NCAA Regional Tournament next year.

Comprised primarily of young players the tennis team's main goal was to improve throughout the season. The team did just that. The women finished with a record of 6-5 in dual meets and a fifth place finish at the conference meet. At the conference meet both Kristin Macy and Emily Spreng each finished fourth in their flight. The doubles team of Tisha Hess and Rachel Maupin excelled by racing to a fourth place finish. With many returning players, the Lady Blue should continue challenging for the C.C.I.W. title next year.

"Sweet" Success

With a sparkling 24-4 record, a trip to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Division III Women's Basketball Championships, and a C.C.I.W. title all earned one year ago, the expectations for this year's Lady Blue was great. With five returning seniors, the big Blue lived up to the expectations by posting a sizzling 23-5 overall record and with a 13-1conference record, first place finish in the C.C.I.W. The team has now won 20 games in a row at home including an awesome 66-58 win over Central College of Iowa for the second straight year to advance to the Sweet Sixteen of the National Tournament twice in as many seasons. This year's team was spearheaded by teamwork than ran rampant throughout the season. Individual accomplishments were achieved by Jana Albrecht, all-time career assist leader (497); Becky Clayton, 3rd place all-time rebounding (834) and 14th all-time scoring (884); Jodi Foster, 4th all-time rebounding (752) and 8th all-time scoring (1,169); and Susan Wills, most consecutive field goals made in a game (11). With three returning starters and a number of players moving up from the junior varsity team that recorded an impressive 9-1 record, the Big Blue should be in the hunt again for the conference title along with a third straight invitation to the NCAA Tournament.

The Best Is Yet To Come

With a 17-8 overall finish and a 2nd place finish in the C.C.I.W. one year ago, Coach Joe Ramsey's team had their sights on having an even more successful season. With the loss of many of its inside players, the team relied on an excellent outside game centered around precise ball movement. The team used great teamwork en route to 14-11 overall record and fourth place finish in the C.C.I.W. Chris Wetzel set the record for most 3-point field goals in a season with 87, most 3-point field goals attempted in a game with 16, and best 3-point field goal percentage in a game by making 7-of-7 attempts for a percentage of 100. The team gained a lot of experience that can be utilized next year as the junior varsity players, which finished with a 6-7 record, plan to contribute to win the C.C.I.W. title.

Wrestlers Reach Goal

With a nine-man squad of all freshman and sophomores, Big Blue wrestling coach Mike Poe had one simple team goal on his mind: steady improvement. Poe had hopes of the squad becoming more fundamentally sound in hopes of building for the future. The team easily achieved that goal by improving itself throughout the season and finishing strong. The Big Blue concluded the season with fourth place conference finish and an 18th place finish at the NCAA Regional Wrestling Championships. Individual successes were had at the C.C.I.W. Championships by John Cone (3rd at 142 pounds) and Rob Sitter (3rd at 118 pounds).

Swimming

This year's Big Blue swimming teams had great success. The women's team compiled an excellent overall record of 6-3 in dual meets, while finishing fourth at the conference championships. The men's team swam competitively en route to a 2-7 record and a 3rd place finish at the conference championships. Brad Cain again shined for the men's team as he set school records in the 100-yard backstroke, 500 freestyle, and 1650 yard freestyle. After advancing to the NCAA Division III National Swimming Championships, he finished there 3rd in the 1650 freestyle, 8th in the 500 freestyle, and 33rd in the 50 freestyle. The teams look to be even better next season as improvement is on the minds of all 27 returning letter winners.

Lady Blue Strike Out the Opposition

With the loss of four starters from last year's team that finished second in the conference and second in the NCAA Midwest Regional, coach Mills looked to the leadership of his three seniors and a plethora of depth from his bench to lead his team to a regular season C.C.I.W. Championship. The Big Blue finished the season 23-12 overall with a 12-2 conference record. Jana Albrecht finished her career with a Millikin record 63 walks. Laura Tolone was also honored as being named the C.C.I.W. Player of the Year. Althought the hopes of another invitation to the national tournament were shattered at the conference tournament, the Lady Blue look for next season to be even more successful with the return of 13 letter winners.

Strong Finish

With only three seniors on this year's team, Coach Mike Neal was cautiously optimistic about his young squads upcoming season. The team began the season with a difficult week-long southern trip and then went full steam ahead into the rigorous C.C.I.W. schedule. Often showing signs of brilliance, the team struggled to pull all of the pieces together. They Big Blue did manage to put an impressive cap on the season by winning five of its last nine games to finish with an overall record of 9-25 and 5-13 in the C.C.I.W. With the return of 19 letter winners, the Big Blue should improve their record and gain the experience necessary to propel itself into the post-season conference tournament.

Teeing Its Way To The Top

Coming off a successful season in which it placed 22nd at the NCAA Division III Championships, the Big Blue had hopes of solidifying its reputation of being one of the best golf teams in the country. Returning two of the top five golfers in the conference from a year ago, Coach Temples had aspirations of his team winning the conference title. The team did just that by concluding an exciting conference tournament with a first place finish in the C.C.I.W. The Big Blue should be able to sustain its dominance next year with the return of five letter winners and the determination to fight for another invitation to the national championships.

Hard Work Pays Off

Plagued by a lack of depth and youth, the men's tennis team gradually improved itself throughout the season and showed signs of maturity match after match. The team's best showing at the conference tournament was at No. 2 singles by Kyle Anderson. Josh Warren was the team leader in wins while playing at No. 2 singles. With every letter winner returning next season, the team should easily gain more experience throughout the season and compete for the conference title.

Dedication Leads To Success

With the return of 22 letter winners, the Big Blue track and field teams had high hopes of contending for the C.C.I.W. titles and also sending a number of athletes to the N.C.A.A. Track and Field Championships. The women's team raced its way to a fifth place conference finish, while the men finished with a sixth place finish. Ali Davis, who advanced to both the Indoor and Outdoor Championships set school records in the 200-meter dash and 100 hurdles. Davis finished 7th at the Outdoor meet in the 100 meter hurdles. The Millikin realy team of Marianne Stanton, Megan Schar, Jennifer Myers, and Ali Davis also set a school record in the 4 X 400.

For the men's team, Tige Butts was the most outstanding performer as he also advanced to the Indoor and Outdoor National Championships. He placed 7th and 10th, respectively in the shot put at the two Championships. With many returning letter winners and another year of experience under their feet, next year's teams should fair even better as the strive to contend for their respective Conference titles.

Most Millikin athletes would agree that without an Athletic Training Program, there would not be an athletic program. Just imagine trying to play an entire season without trainers. It would be IMPOSSIBLE!!! The student athletic trainers are under the supervision of Head Trainer Scott Doberstein. They spend countless hours in the training room preparing athletes for competition as well as helping the athletes with rehabilitation. This time in the training room is also extended to the playing field, as they accompany the teams to each of their games.

The most beneficial aspect of the athletic training program is the trainer's understanding of the student athlete's desire to be playing with his or her teammates. On behalf of the athletes and all those who love watching Millikin athletes, we thank the trainers for their hard work and dedication, they all are greatly appreciated.

From a Different Perspective

This is my third year on the yearbook staff, and my first as the Editor-in-Chief. This year has undoubtedly been a learning experience for me. Before the year started, I thought the job as the Editor-in-Chief would be a breeze with two years of experience under my belt. I soon learned that there was more to the job than simply putting together a very thick book. I had my share of frustrations, challenges, successes and failures. I can safely say that I have new found respect for my predeccesors and other student leaders on this campus from my experiences this year. I can proudly say now that I know the true meaning of frustration, and that I conquered it.

As I look back, I see so many changes that I have personally gone through in the three years that I have been here. I still remember the first day I arrived in this strange land called Decatur, Illinois. It was pouring rain that evening when I stepped of the little "puddle-jumper." Since then, I have made friendships that will last a lifetime, experienced college life in a way I never thought possible, and I carry with me memories that will remain vivid in my mind for a very long time. I think I am a different person now than I was three years ago--one with new ideals, new goals, new experiences, new friends, new perspective on life. I feel that this has been a year of growth for me.

I would like to thank all the staff members for their hard work and the countless hours they put into this yearbook. The job of putting together the yearbook is not a glorious one, but the finished product is always one that can be cherished and appreciated. Our memories are captured in the pages of this book. I hope this yearbook will as special to you as it will be to me.

Best wishes,

Miin Wei Looi

Graduation...Class of 1995

The day of graduation began with baccalaureate which is a religious ceremony before commencement excercises. Baccalaureate began with the Academic Processional of the graduates followed by the professors. After the call to worship, the audience sang a hymn accompanied by the Millikin University Choir. The baccalaureate continued with a baccalaureate address and ended with another hymn.

A Graduates Reception was held at Richards Treat University Center right after baccalaureate. The reception was sponsored by the Alumni Office as a way for the Alumni Office to welcome the newest graduating class into the status of alumni. The graduates who attended the reception had a chance to enjoy the food and one last chance to meet with friends who were graduating.

92nd Annual Commencement

The Graduating Class of 1995 began to gather at the Farview Park Pavillion with family and friends in anticipation of the beginning of Commencement ceremonies at 2:00 P.M.

As the graduates entered the pavillion during the processional, they were greeted by loud applause from all the people who were gathered to watch this exciting occasion.

Before the graduates were conferred their degrees, several outstanding professors of Millikin were recognized for their years of contribution to the university. This year, the graduates addressed by Steven R. Hurst, State Department Correspondent for Cable News Network and President Curtis L. McCray.

Finally, the moment the graduates had been waiting for after four years. They walked on stage with heads held high to receive their degrees. Damon Cates, the Senior Class Chair led the graduates in the tassle ceremony.

The Myth of the Academic Regalia

A Guide to the Cap and Gowns

The regalia worn by participants in the academic procession during commencement are an extension of a medieval tradition and symbolize the highest academic degree earned by the wearer and the academic institution awarding the degree.

The robe is usually black with a semi-stiff yoke and pleated front. The bachelor's gown has pointed open sleeves with no ornamentation; the master's gown has longer, crescent-shaped sleeves; the doctor's gown has full-length lapels of velvet and bell-shaped sleeves with three horizontal velvet bars. The doctor's gown and the velvet bars may be a color reflecting the wearer's field of study.

The doctor's hood is the longest and fullest. The color lining of the hood indicates the degree-granting institution. The doctoral gown is usually faced with black or blue velvet down the front, and there are three bars of black or blue velvet across the sleeves. The facing and crossbars may also be done in velvet in the color distinctive of the subject for which the degree was awarded, or in colors of the institution awarding the degree. The color of the trim signifies field of study: white, arts and letters; golden yellow, science; purple, law; apricot, nursing; green, medicine; drab, business and accounting; lemon, library science; scarlet, theology; dark blue, philosophy; pink, music; light blue, education.

Candidates for degrees in the College of Arts and Sciences at Millikin University wear white tassels. Candidates for the bachelor of science degree in the Tabor School of Business wear olive drab tassels. Students in the College of Fine Arts wear brown tassels except for the bachelor of music candidates who wear pink tassels. Candidates for the bachelor of science in nursing degree wear apricot tassels.

Tassels are worn on the right side of the mortarboard until the degree is conferred and then will be shifted by the entire graduating class to the left side, at the direction of the Senior Class chair.

Members of the faculty with advanced degrees wear hoods in the colors of their degrees and the granting institutions. The facing of the hood denotes the field of study while the colors of the lining are those of the college or university which conferred the degree. Millikin University confers honorary doctorates; linings for these hoods are Yale blue and white.

The processional is led by student marshals, who are generally officers of the Student Senate. Two senior professors serve as faculty marshals. Following them in the processional are the faculty, University trustees, and the platform party. The final members of the platform party are the President of the University and the commencement speaker. Faculty are arranged in order of their rank: professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor, lecturer. Professors emeriti may also march in the processional. The President, speaker and other members of the platform party lead the recessional at the conclusion of the program.

Tassels for advanced degrees are normally black, except doctorates may be of gold metallic thread. Tassels may also be colored as are the facings of the hoods for advanced degrees: arts, letters and humanities, white; business and accounting, drab; education, light blue; engineering, orange; music, pink; philosophy, dark blue; science, golden yellow.
